CDOIQ European Symposium | Last Minute Participant Updates...

We are looking forward to seeing everyone in Lausanne and want to give you some last minute updates. Make sure that you come prepared to have spirited conversations with your peers regarding data, analytics/ML/AI and ecosystems. The symposium will have breakfast, buffet lunch and a fancy dinner at the Movenpick Hotel - so bring your appetites. There will be a conference tool for conference participants to answer polls (and see the results), ask questions, and other features. EU CDOIQ Symposium is held at Amphipole Building at UNIL campus. An email to participants will be sent shortly with all the location and other last minute details.

Welcome Letter | Dr. Richard Wang (MIT), Dr. Christine Legner (UNIL)

Dr Richard Wang, the founder of the MIT Chief Data Officer & Information Quality Symposium along with Dr. Christine Legner, the host of the event held at the University of Lausanne, would like to formally welcome Europe's data leaders to this inaugural symposium. The symposium is only 10 days away, and we are thrilled to share with you the final list of speakers and the agenda. Once again, we look forward to seeing you on the beautiful UNIL campus! .

Platinum Sponsor | SAP

More than just a hype: Data mesh as a new approach to increase agility in value creation from data. Data mesh represents a new way of looking at information. It is born from the growing concept that data is actually itself a product, a tool, a means to an end – not simply something businesses gather and analyze later in a backward-looking attempt to understand things that have already happened. Our modern SAP Business Technology Platform for the intelligent sustainable enterprise brings all the capabilities to turn data into business value. Data Mesh and other current trends in data management such as Data Fabric, DataOps or Cloud Data Ecosystems etc. are supported as well as already established approaches.

Gold Sponsor | Three New Partners Announced

YOOI drives the business value from your data strategy. YOOI consolidates your Data & Analytics portfolio and unites information across your ecosystem of tools in a central cockpit. Accelerate time to value, control risks, optimize costs.

AWK Group AG, a member of the Eraneos Group, is a leading consultancy and its commitment of our employees in the care of existing customers, the targeted sharpening of our services, and the strategic opening of additional business areas, which enabled us to acquire new customers in our core competence area of digital transformation.

Business & Decision is an international consulting and systems integration company with its global headquarters in Paris, France. The group specializes in Business Intelligence, Customer Relationship Management, e-Business with two major directions: Data & Digital.
